All agencies have a local residency preference. Applicants who live, work or have been hired to work in an agency's service area are ranked higher on the waiting list than those who live outside the service area. If you apply to the waiting list and you live outside the agency's service area, you will not be able to exercise portability until you have lived in the service area for twelve months.

Example:

You live in Richmond, Virginia but apply to the STEP, Inc. waiting list. Your application will be accepted but your application will be ranked lower on the list since applicants that live/work in Bedford, Franklin and Patrick counties will be served first. Once your name reaches the top of the waiting list, you will be advised that you do not have the right to exercise portability since you do not live in the service area. In order to use the voucher, you will need to relocate and lease a unit in Bedford, Franklin or Patrick counties for twelve months. After the twelve months, you may exercise your right to portability and relocate back to Richmond or to another area.
