VHDA LAUNCHES HOMEBUYER TAX CREDIT PLUS LOAN PROGRAM
Second Mortgage Offers No Payments or Interest for First Year;
Covers Down Payment and Closing Costs

RICHMOND, VA - One of the biggest obstacles facing first-time homebuyers is gathering the funds for the down payment and closing costs. To help prospective homebuyers meet this challenge, the Virginia Housing Development Authority has designed a new loan program – Homebuyer Tax Credit plus.

VHDA designed this program so borrowers could take advantage of the $8,000 federal First-time Homebuyer Tax Credit to finance their down payment and closing costs.

“In addition to providing a first mortgage with an affordable 30-year fixed rate, our Homebuyer Tax Credit plus loan program offers a built-in second mortgage that allows borrowers to receive up to five percent of the home’s sales price, which can help cover down payment and closing costs,” said VHDA Executive Director Susan F. Dewey. “While this program is similar to VHDA’s current down payment assistance program, it’s unique in that the second mortgage offers no payments and 0% interest during the first year. This feature gives borrowers the flexibility to choose a preferred payment plan for the second mortgage.”

- No payments required on the second mortgage for the first year

These payment options include:

- Paying off the second mortgage with the federal First-time Homebuyer Tax Credit to instantly build equity in a home.
- Paying off the second mortgage over 29 years — and saving the Tax Credit to pay for future emergencies, making home improvements, or paying off/paying down existing debt.
- Making principal payments on the second mortgage before the repayment period begins to reduce the required monthly payments for the remaining 29 years on the second mortgage.

Beginning with the 13th month, the second mortgage will have the same interest rate as the first mortgage and monthly payments must be made thereafter.
